Assault Pistols: The Next Wave

In early March 2011, indictments were handed down in U.S. District Courts in Texas and New Mexico in two gun trafficking cases. Like the majority of gun trafficking cases along the border between the U.S. and Mexico, both traveled a familiar path. Rings of straw purchasers in each state worked together to illegally purchase military-style firearms easily available on the U.S. civilian market.<sup>1</sup> The goal? Trafficking the weapons to Mexico where such weapons are illegal and a ready market of drug traffickers and other criminals exist for them.<sup>2</sup>

In both cases, like virtually all other similar trans-border trafficking cases in this region, the traffickers favored a reliable and easily available mix of military style weaponry: assault rifle models like the AR-15 and AK-47; high-capacity pistols; and, the latest growth area in America's burgeoning assault weapon arsenal, semi-automatic assault pistols.

In the Texas case, United States v. Zuniga,<sup>3</sup> among the illegally obtained guns named in the indictment were 13 assault pistols, six of which were Century International Arms Draco AK-47 assault pistols (the remainder were Kel-Tec PLR 16 assault pistols).

The same month that the indictments were handed down, Tactical Weapons magazine offered a review of the Draco AK-47 assault pistol. After detailing its military pedigree and suitability as a PDW (Personal Defense Weapon), the article approvingly noted that the "result is a 5.5 pound pistol with an overall length of 20.5 inches that offers full rifle power in a very compact package—A desirable combination for many!"<sup>4</sup> Or as one Texas gun store, Champion Firearms, exclaimed on its website:

[T]he Draco isn't an NFA firearm [full-auto machine gun] or a restricted military weapon. This beauty happens to be a civilian legal AK 47 in pistol form. It goes by the name Draco, is manufactured in Romania and imported by Century Arms. This pistol is chambered in the popular AK rifle caliber 7.62x39, takes standard AK-47

<sup>1</sup> In a straw purchase, the actual buyer of the gun, being unable to pass the required federal background check or desiring to not have his or her name associated with the transaction, uses a proxy buyer (the straw man) who can pass the required background check to purchase the firearm.

<sup>2</sup> From 2006 through 2011, there were more than 50,000 organized crime murders in Mexico (Drug Violence in Mexico: Data and Analysis Through 2011, Trans-Border Institute, March 2012, <http://justiceinmexico.files.wordpress.com/2010/07/2012-tbi-drugviolence.pdf>).

magazines/drums and shoots like a dream. If you're interested in high capacity + firepower on a reliable, time tested platform—then this pistol is for you.<sup>5</sup>

Champion Firearms listed the retail price of the Draco assault pistol as $467.00 with “Our Price: $359.00. You save $108.00!”

In the second indictment, United States v. Villalobos,<sup>6</sup> handed down the same month in New Mexico, more than half (117 of 208) of the illegally obtained guns named in the indictment were AK-47 assault pistols. All but two of the guns were purchased from one store, Chaparral Guns in Chaparral, New Mexico. Members of the trafficking ring would purchase multiple guns at a time. In one three-day period in February 2011, the traffickers bought 30 AK-47 pistols from Chaparral. All were acquired with the intent of selling them on the criminal market across the border in Mexico.

Research by the Violence Policy Center (VPC) and others makes it clear that AK-47 pistols are a “weapon of choice” of illegal gun traffickers who purchase firearms in the United States and then smuggle them into Mexico. A VPC review of 114 trafficking cases in 16 states (from which the above two cases are drawn) catalogued more than 4,800 firearms detailed in court and other legal documents. Of the 262 assault pistols tabulated, almost all were AK-47 variant pistols (the remainder were mostly AR-15 pistols).<sup>7</sup>

In a 2009 report Inside Gun Shows: What Goes on When Everybody Thinks Nobody's Watching, the Violence Prevention Research Program at the University of California, Davis, noted that 11 percent of 212 gun sellers (licensed retailers and unlicensed vendors) at gun shows in Arizona, Nevada, Texas, and Florida had

<sup>7</sup> The VPC website Cross-Border Gun Trafficking: An Ongoing Analysis of the Types of Firearms Illegally Trafficked from the United States to Mexico and Other Latin American and Caribbean Countries as Revealed in U.S. Court Documents contains indictments and other documents related to federal gun trafficking prosecutions filed since 2006 primarily in the southwest United States. The site is available in both English (<http://www.vpc.org/indicted.htm>) and Spanish (<http://www.vpc.org/indictedesp.htm>). The website's data and legal documents offer a unique view of the weapons favored by Mexican traffickers not revealed in the trace statistics compiled by the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms and Explosives (ATF)—the make and model of guns favored by traffickers and the methods by which they obtain such weapons. (While the site's findings offer a snapshot of the types of firearms preferred by cross-border gun traffickers, the findings should not be viewed in any way as offering an estimate of the overall numbers of guns attempted to be trafficked from the U.S. into other countries.)

assault pistols for sale. No assault pistols were seen among 60 sellers at gun shows in California, where such weapons are banned.<sup>8</sup> The report notes, "Colleagues at ATF in Southern California have indicated that these guns are now being put to use by Mexican drug trafficking organizations."<sup>9</sup>

Unfortunately, the AK-47 pistol is only one example of a disturbing and lethal trend: the growing number of assault pistols available for sale on the United States civilian market.

Not since the late 1980s and early 1990s has there been such a wide selection of assault pistols available for sale in the United States. During that period, UZI pistols, MAC-10s, and TEC-9s were the prominent assault pistols seen on television and movie screens as well as displayed on gun store counters. Today, more assault pistol makes and models are available than ever before for civilian sale in the United States. They range from models that were named under the now-expired federal assault weapons ban (such as the UZI pistol, MAC-10, and Calico) to newer models such as the aforementioned AK-47 and AR-15 pistols. As a 2011 article published in Handguns magazine titled "AR Pistols: The Hugely Popular Rifle Platform Makes a Pretty Cool Handgun as Well" noted, "There's no doubt in the last few years that AR pistols have become extremely popular."<sup>10</sup>

This increase in the quantity of makes and models has been matched by an increase in the quality of their lethality. Whereas the earlier generation of assault pistols were primarily high-capacity military-style pistols in 9mm or 45 caliber, the most popular models today are derived from military style assault rifles, such as the AK-47 and AR-15. As a result, they have the penetrating power of an assault rifle in the concealable format of a pistol. Whereas the most commonly worn levels of police body armor would be able to protect the wearer from a 9mm or 45 caliber handgun round, a .223 or 7.62 rifle round would be far more likely to penetrate. As one poster on www.SurvivalistBoards.com wrote about the Draco AK-47 pistol, "It can penetrate body armor and holds 30+ rounds.....I figure this is a lot of firepower in a legal and small package."<sup>11</sup>

<sup>10</sup> "AR pistols: the hugely popular rifle platform makes a pretty cool handgun as well," Handguns, June/July, 2011. One notable AR-15 pistol owner was Boston mobster and FBI informant Whitey Bulger. In a July 2012 Boston Herald column on Bulger's guns, author Howie Carr offered this characterization of Bulger's assault pistol by a "gun-loving friend" described as "Larry the Loner": "Good for bank jobs, small massacres and going out in a hail of bullets if you're also planning on taking out a few guys along with you," ("Old-Fashioned Piece-Nik," The Boston Herald, July 1, 2012).

In a segment of his cable television show Ted Nugent's Spirit of the Wild titled "Uncle Ted's Favorite Guns," National Rifle Association Board Member Ted Nugent cheerfully acknowledged the military pedigree and lauded the rifle power of the Century International Arms Centurion 39 AK-47 pistol, "This is a variation of what they lovingly refer to as the Kalashnikov, the AK-47....This is a handgun version, almost what you see the bad guys in Afghanistan use...7.62 x 39mm, out of a little, short, rifle basically, but it's a handgun, this is a handgun. It's legal, without a Class III ATF forms."<sup>12</sup>

This study's Appendix contains more than 20 examples (obtained through gun industry catalogs, advertisements and articles in firearm publications, and gun manufacturer websites) of assault pistols marketed in the United States. Examples of promotional copy for these guns include the following.

- A headline for catalog copy for the aforementioned Century International Arms Centurion 39 AK Pistol boasts, "We brought you the 1st 100% American Made AK. Now we bring you the 1st 100% American Made AK Pistol!" The ad text reads: "Wow! This new Centurion 39 Pistol is totally awesome and is 100% made in the good old U.S. of A.! The new bird cage muzzle brake and 'shark fin' front sight, gives the small package a sexy new look. An ergonomic pistol grip and our proprietary quad rail, high-tech, poly furniture, gives an incredibly cool appearance that just oozes strength, quality and style...Perfect for home protection, CQB [Close Quarters Battle], or a fun day of inexpensive shooting at the range, the C39 is a trusty tool that is ready when you are. Takes all standard AK type magazines."<sup>13</sup>

Under the National Firearms Act (NFA)—the federal law regulating machine guns, short-barreled rifles, and other "gangster" weapons—a Class III weapons license with heightened transfer standards would need to be obtained from the federal Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms and Explosives (ATF) for the civilian purchase of a short-barreled rifle.

- Catalog copy for the DSA Inc. SA58 PKP pistol brags, "The power of the 7.62x51 cartridge in a package a little larger than a full-size UZI. Spartan Series Molon Labe or the American Flag engraving."<sup>14</sup>
- According to the 2010 catalog of Masterpiece Arms, which manufactures MAC-10 pistols and rifles, "The MAC is back, and its [sic] better than ever before." The company promises that its products have "the tactical look and feel so popular in today's market. There is nothing that will catch the attention of a fellow gun enthusiast like the MAC."<sup>15</sup>
- The 2012 catalog for I.O. Inc. explains, "The Hellpup is the little brother to the Hellhound [AK-47] rifle. This tactical AK pistol is in 7.62x39 caliber with a 9.25" barrel and no rear stock. It features the same Picatinny quad rail hand guard as our Hellhound Tactical AK, and almost every assault rifle option known can be fitted to this five pound pistol. We have a complete line of top quality accessories available from lasers, lights, etc. Muzzle flash is suppressed with a Phantom flash hider, and a 30 round I.O. It includes a limited lifetime manufacturer's warranty and is completely American-made in North Carolina."<sup>16</sup>

It is ideal as a personal defense weapon or as a compact pistol for backpacking. A plate on the back of the receiver [sic] accepts a QD sling swivel (not included)."
- Text on the website of Velocity Firearms for the VMAC45-102 ($419.00) states, "This is a FACTORY NEW VMAC45 manufactured by Velocity Fire Arms. This is a package deal including the pistol with one 30 Grease Gun Mag, manual, trigger lock, and a Case. A Greek phrase, Molon Labe is said to have been the response of Spartan warriors to Persian demands to lay down their arms at the Battle of Thermopylae in 480 B.C. It means, "Come and take them," and has been adopted as a slogan by some hard-line gun rights advocates.

- According to the company's website, "Calico firearms incorporate the Helical Feed System with the option of using a 50 or 100 round drum magazine...The Helical feed magazine can be loaded and stored indefinitely without spring fatigue, and with the Calico speed loader, the 50 round magazine can be loaded from an open box of ammo in less than 15 seconds and 30 seconds for 100 rounds.

"Both the pistol and carbine have virtually no muzzle climb, even with rapid firing. Spent cases are ejected straight down in front of the trigger guard for close quarter operation. This is very important in a combat or law enforcement tactical operation as shells ejecting to the right give away your position...The Liberty III pistol is comparable in weight to a big bore pistol, except the Liberty III pistol has 50 rounds of ammunition."<sup>18</sup>

- According to the company's website, "Chiappa's Mfour-22 pistol is a scaled down, hand-held replica of the M4 Carbine. It is small enough to fit in your hand, yet unique enough in appearance to draw a crowd. The Chiappa Mfour-22 pistol has a 6" barrel and sports many of the features of the full size M4 Carbine."<sup>19</sup>

Unfortunately, due to Tiahrt Amendment restrictions on the release of formerly available federal crime gun trace data<sup>20</sup> it is not possible to determine these guns' use in crime in the United States beyond the anecdotal—of which there are numerous examples as reported by Nexis.<sup>21</sup>

<sup>20</sup> Since fiscal year 2004, legislation making appropriations for ATF has contained language severely restricting release of information about guns traced to crime scenes contained in the agency's Firearms Tracing System database. This restriction has become known as the "Tiahrt Amendment," after its principal sponsor, former Representative Todd Tiahrt (R-KS). For many years, crime gun tracing data was publicly available under the provisions of the Freedom of Information Act (FOIA). The Tiahrt Amendment prohibits ATF from releasing any data contained in the database, except in a limited fashion to individual law enforcement agencies.

9MM PISTOLS

We Strive for Total Innovation. Our 9mm Handgun Line ranges from the traditional top cocking version to our innovative side cocking scope mount version. All 9mm Handguns can be ordered as a Top Cocker or Side Cocking/Scope Mount with either 3.5", 6" or 10" barrel lengths. The 10" barrel lengths include an AR15 Handguard.

The new "Mini 9" (MPA930 series) is our compact 9mm pistol. It's much smaller than our traditional 9mm and easy to handle. It features a reduced frame size in the upper and lower receiver, shorter barrel (3.5"), and reduced weight - yet is still accepts any of our 30 round 9mm magazines.

460 ROWLAND

The new MPA460 Rowland Series is based off the original 45 ACP series but is chambered for the 460 Rowland cartridges. This proprietary cartridge attains ballistic performance similar to a .44 Magnum. Combine this with the benefits of the MPA 45 ACP series handguns and rifles, and you have a serious personal defense weapon, hunting rifle or police/military entry weapon. The 30 round magazine and reduced recoil truly enhance the performance of these weapons. The 460 Rowland is available in 6", 10" or 16" barrel lengths in the side cocker scope mount configuration. You can also upgrade your MPA 45 ACP series pistol or rifle with a 460 Rowland upper receiver. Contact MPA for details.

MPA22T

The new MPA22T was developed from the Mini 9mm frame. Designed with the same MPA quality found in our other weapons, the MPA22T meets the demand for a 22LR pistol that our customers have wanted. The MPA22T makes shooting with a true Mac platform fun and enjoyable for all shooters while reducing the cost of ammunition. The MPA22T is just another example of how MasterPiece Arms continues to make innovations to the Mac platform. The MPA22T is available as a top cocker (MPA22T-A) or side cocker/scope mount version (MPA22S5T-A). All of the accessories available for the Mini 9 will fit the MPA22T.
