The Violence Policy Center (VPC) is a national non-profit educational organization that conducts research and public education on firearms violence and provides information and analysis to policymakers, journalists, advocates, and the general public. The Center examines the role of firearms in America, analyzes trends and patterns in firearms violence, and works to develop policies to reduce gun-related death and injury. This study was authored by VPC Executive Director Josh Sugarmann and VPC Policy Analyst Marty Langley, and was edited by VPC Publications Coordinator Aimée Newth. Research assistance was supplied by Sofia Checa. This study was funded in part with the support of The David Bohnett Foundation, The California Wellness Foundation, Richard and Rhoda Goldman Fund, The George Gund Foundation, The Joyce Foundation, and, The John D. and Catherine T. MacArthur Foundation. Past studies released by the VPC include:
